

James Cook

Survey Date : 3/2012

STRONGEST BEHAVIORS

James will most strongly express the following behaviors:

- Proactively connects quickly to others; he's open and sharing of himself. Builds and leverages relationships to get work done.
- Comfortably fluent and fast talk, in volume. He enthusiastically persuades and motivates others by considering their point of view and adjusting his delivery.
- Collaborative; usually works with and through others. Intuitive understanding of team cohesion, dynamics, and interpersonal relations.
- Careful with rules; he's precise, by the book, fast-paced, and literal in interpreting rules, schedules and results.
- Detail-oriented and thorough; he works to ensure things don't fall through the cracks, and follows up to ensure they're done properly and on time.
- Driven to achieve operational efficiencies: thinks about what needs to be done and how it can be done as fast as possible while maintaining a high-quality outcome. Impatient with routines.

PI for: James Cook Date: 3/15/2012

Copyright © 1994-2000, 2002, 2005 by Praedex, Inc. All rights reserved.

SUMMARY

James is an outgoing, friendly communicator, comfortable with people, tactful, and capable of projecting enthusiasm and warmth, and of motivating other people, particularly in a team environment.

He is an intense person with a strong sense of urgency and a drive to get work done quickly, in complete detail, and in accordance with company standards and policies, for which he has a high level of respect and commitment. A very conscientious person, he is motivated by a strong sense of duty and a feeling of responsibility for getting his work done quickly and correctly.

A cooperative and enthusiastic person, James uses his social and communicating skills to gain the interest and involvement of others in getting work done. His own interest in and liking for people makes it easy for them to like working with him cooperatively, aided by his likely effectiveness as a teacher or trainer.

While his work pace is faster-than-average, and he is impatient for results, James is also a very self-disciplined person who will give close personal attention to the details of any work for which he is responsible to assure their correctness and completeness. If his work requires that he delegate to others, he will follow up closely and thoroughly.

James is generally a cautious and conservative person who works within the guidelines of established company policy and will seek guidance and support from management in dealing with new or unfamiliar problems or situations.

MANAGEMENT STYLE

As a manager of people or projects, James will be:

- Enthusiastic in working with and through his team to complete work by 'the book,' on-time, and within accepted standards and policies
- Respectful of authority and considerate and understanding of others; his focus is on the job at hand and assisting others to accomplish established company goals in a timely manner
- Able to delegate some authority and detail; his follow-up will be quick, friendly and close – ensuring that all procedures have been followed and all standards met
- Collaborative in approach; he's eager to gather input from others, and is open to their view points, but will be unlikely to go against accepted policies or higher authority
- Comfortable assuming a position of responsibility within his field of expertise; particularly adept at leading teams towards established goals
- Sociable, considerate and duty-bound – focused on quality, completeness, and timeliness of work delivered.